

Andy's Thoughts

Hello... and welcome to my occasional thoughts. I am Andy, I live here at Monte Naturista O Barão with my wife Jill, my dog Sid, a cat named TomTom and my lovely goat Nellie. We first came here in our caravan in June 2007 to camp and look for our own place in the sun. We never left! Since then this little paradise has grown into what is in my opinion the best naturist site... in the world! In the coming months I'll keep in touch, through this page, with news, opinions and info.

October

Writing from England, where, at least in this part of the country there has been no rain since we arrived. Indeed, the day of our granddaughters (Jemima) christening was bathed in glorious warm sunshine. We head back to MonteNaturista on Monday 2nd October, with EasyJet and not Ryanair, thank goodness.

Of course, after 3 days here I suffered with a man cold. I am delighted to tell you that I have infected every single person who failed to sympathise with me when I first felt unwell. Oh, and I got a nasty splinter from a wooden chop stick in a chinese restaurant. Olivia, aged 5, has joined the school football team. She has tiny new boots. When Jill collected her from training, Olivia proudly announced that she had been captain of her team. "What was the score?" said Jill. "We lost 9-10." said Olivia. "Oh dear" says Jill, "Your goalie must be crap." You can probably guess who the goalkeeper was. And the child told Jill off for using a naughty word. This girl, Olivia never stops moving. Up at 0630 playing, then school followed by football and drama one day, swimming and gymnastics the next, arriving home around 1830, dinner and bed. It is so good to see that my athletic genes have been passed on !!

Jill and I would like to thank our sons and their ladies and our grandchildren for a wonderful holiday. Also a big thank you to my mother in law for not being too cross for dinking her car into the front gate when I returned it. (Sod it, add £200 to the cost of being here.)

News from Monte is that the new sauna is in place for the winter and that the weather is still lovely. Hope you can visit soon...
